

CLASSYS promotes body contouring market in Singapore seminar

(CLASSYS Inc. product line for fat reduction and body contouring: SCIZER, CLATUU, ULFIT)

Singapore (July 8, 2018)

A leader in the global market of medical aesthetics, CLASSYS Inc. has recently attended a seminar on cutting-edge body contouring technologies in Singapore, with many physicians and business partners having gathered in active attendance.

Among those who shared valued insights and findings in the widely successful forum, Dr. Beom-joon Kim, MD gave an in-depth assessment based on the capabilities of the SCIZER under the presentation titled “Body Contouring.” And Dr. Dr. Chew Khek, MD of Singapore also gave an assessment based on the capabilities of the CLATUU.

Accompanied by various research findings that certifies both safety and efficacy of its technologies, CLASSYS Inc. has for some time been recognized for introducing revolutionary HIFU facial and body treatments with the ULTRAFORMER III, SCIZER, and ULFIT, along with the CLATUU, a cooling energy system also known for its impressive body contouring and fat reduction capabilities.

Taking into account a compound annual growth (CAGR) of the global medical aesthetics market expected to rise at 19.2%, courtesy of Medical Insight Inc., CLASSYS Inc. has and will continue to move aggressively to increase its market share by featuring face and body contouring developments for years to come.